Exponential Value of VPI's Integrated Solutions

➤ Drive Performance with Actionable Information

Leverage your performance management desktop tickers and Web based dashboards to automatically display multi-level information customized for agents and management in real time, including performance statistics, out-of-range changes in key performance indicators, agent quality management scores, indications from screen and contact center analytics, and optionally also workforce management information such as schedule changes and reminders. Improve agent engagement, empower self-correction and continuous performance improvements by delivering coaching information to agent desktops focusing on improving group and individual quality and performance achievements, without needless interruptions to call handling process. Enable decision-making agility and accuracy by presenting management with multi-dimensional performance statistics and enable convenient data interaction for root cause analysis, via easy drill-downs from any information category to any level of detail- even down to playback of customer interaction recordings.

➤ Focus and Align Performance with Business Goals

Incorporate business goals in definition of key performance indicators. Supplement standard performance metrics with vital qualitative metrics – soft skills – in quality evaluation forms. Align goals of individual front-line employees and teams - communicate and coach employees towards the same performance objectives. Identify the events during customer interactions that relate to performance indicators with screen analytics – tag high-value interactions in the database of call and screen recordings. Provide periodic feedback on how actual performance compares to set objectives via desktop tickers – create the culture of accountability and transparency. Equip managers to more easily stay in touch with employee progress during every phase of goal completion, allowing immediate reinforcement of progress via coaching, notifications and alerts

➤ Improve Customer Service and Loyalty with Intelligent Quality Management

Focus your quality management efforts and efficiently utilize the scarce time of your supervisors and evaluators by selecting the most meaningful customer-agent interaction recordings for evaluations, based on specific company objectives – leveraging integrated applications. Evaluate based on real-time performance management notifications of increased or decreased up-sell performance, increased volume of cancelled orders or unwanted practices that lead to complaints, write-offs and lost customers – based on interaction recordings tagged by screen analytics, or risk of security or data privacy violations reported by security audit and PCI Compliance Capture Pack. Compare quality scores with key performance indicators to improve scripts, processes, and provide stronger, more relevant agent coaching.

➤ Maximize Employee Efficiency and Effectiveness

Leverage the agent coaching module of the performance management desktop ticker or Web Portal dashboard to display messages and coaching tips, and for launching course content. Maximize training efficiency and agent utilization rates. Align automated distribution of agent coaching content – assigned based on performance statistics from your performance management system - with workforce management schedules (optional integration).
